

ABDOMINOPERINEAL RESECTION OF THE RECTUM

The sigmoid colon, rectum and anus are all removed, and an end colostomy created. This also results in an abdominal and perineal wound, and is often performed when rectal cancer is present.

